

INTEGRATED WATERING SYSTEM

We also have the ability to supply the system as a prefab system, incl. prefab valves, watermeters etc. So the system can be installed by local people, which will considerably reduce the costs.

Integrated watering Systems

The integrated Limbraco watering system is a complete automatic system for your growing rooms. The watering system is designed, built, delivered and installed by Limbraco. The integrated watering system is a professional system which will be installed into your shelving.

The controls for this watering system are integrated in our VEC41 climate computer system. This means one computer system for climate control and watering. So a very smart investment!!

In case that you already using another computer system... no problem! Our integrated watering system can also be installed as a stand alone system, including software on your PC.

LIMBRACO

Controls for watering systems are intergrated in Proces Manager climate software.
